new ways to work with attention deficit disorder at home work and school this is a personal searching and positive book it is rooted in five perceptions of christianity from people of different faiths and responses from five christians richard tetlow sees mutual loving relationships as priority for human well being in our british multifaith society he shows how christians can listen to and learn from others about themselves for common benefit he analyses perceptions themselves including perceptions of god their whys and wherefores he challenges traditional christian theology structures and worship throughout he asks questions in search of meaning sincere faith and honest personal experience both religious and non religious and seeks recognition of the unity and diversity of all life finally he suggests ways forward basically screw your perception is to remind us all that we are one how is our ego getting in the way and stopping us from listening and accepting others just as they are how can we learn to live in love and in relation with another how can we learn and understand one another what if we listened what if we allowed others to be themselves what if we let go what if we were willing to look ourself in the mirror what if we might just be each other's reflection what if we were here to learn to show empathy to love and to accept one another can we accept others just as they are can we accept them even when to us what they are saying thinking or doing seems so different from what we are saying thinking or doing the big question can we deflate our ego and stop trying to change everyone else maybe it is about changing ourselves maybe it is all about connection rather than division set immediately prior to the trial and execution of socrates in 399 bc theaetetus shows the great philosopher considering the nature of knowledge itself in a debate with the geometrician theodorus and his young follower theaetetus their dialogue covers many questions such as is knowledge purely subjective composed of the ever changing flow of impressions we receive from the outside world is it better thought of as true belief or is it as many modern philosophers argue justified true belief in which the belief is supported by argument or evidence with skill and eloquence socrates guides the debate drawing out the implications of these theories and subjecting them to merciless and mesmerising criticism one of the founding works of epistemology this profound discussion of the problem of knowledge continues to intrigue and inspire for more than seventy years penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the english speaking world with more than 1 700 titles penguin classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators
